

GROWING UP IN GHANA

COCOA FARMING

- Lynda Mensah Agyman lives in Ghana , she is 12 years old.
- Her dad is a cocoa farmer and she helps him.
- She thinks that cocoa farming is a busy and very hard job.
- Cocoa farming is also dangerous work because there are poisonous snakes.
- She would like us to think of her and her chocolate. when we eat a Fairtrade chocolate bar.

LYNDA'S FAMILY

- She goes to school -nearby and on the way home she collects water and when she gets home she helps her mum with the cooking. When she finishes, she has to do her homework.
- She has to finish her homework before it gets very dark, because her family doesn't have eletricity. Sometimes Lynda and her family dance to her dad's tapes.
- Her dream is to be a teacher but in her opinion it won't be possible because if you want to go to secondary school you need to have money.

THE END

By: Giulio , Simone , Gabriele

Credit: International Labor Rights Fund

